

Privacy policy and cookies

SECURIX LIMITED is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy. We don't collect personal data and we don't use cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you.

SECURIX LIMITED privacy notice

SECURIX LIMITED (company number 2769049) is committed to protecting your privacy. At all times we aim to respect any personal information you share with us, or that we receive from other organisations, and keep it safe. This Privacy Notice ('Notice') sets out our data processing practices when you interact with us and your rights and options regarding the ways in which your personal information is used.

This notice contains important information about your personal rights to privacy. Please read it carefully to understand how we use your personal information.

The provision of your personal information to us is voluntary. However, without providing us with your personal information, your use of our services may be impaired.

1. We collect information about you:

1.1 When you give it to us directly

For example, personal information that you give us by contacting us by email or social media.

1.2 When we obtain it indirectly

For example, your personal information may be shared with us by third parties including, for example, our business partners; analytics providers and search information providers. To the extent we have not done so already, we will notify you when we receive information about you from them and tell you how and why we intend to use that information.

1.3 When it is available publicly

Your personal information may be available to us from external publicly available sources. For example, depending on your privacy settings for social media services, we may access information from those accounts or services (for example when you choose to interact with us through platforms such as Twitter or LinkedIn).

1.4 When you visit our website

When you visit our website, we automatically collect the following types of personal information:

a. Technical information, including the internet protocol (IP) address used to connect your device to the internet, browser type and version, time zone setting, browser plug-in types and versions and operating systems and platforms.

b. Information about your visit to the websites, including the uniform resource locator (URL) clickstream to, through and from the site (including date and time), services you viewed or searched for, page response times, download errors, length of visits to certain pages, referral sources, page interaction information (such as scrolling and clicks) and methods used to browse away from the page.

c. We also collect and use your personal information by using cookies on our website – please see our Cookie Notice at the bottom of the page.

In general, we may combine your personal information from these different sources for the purposes set out in this notice.

2. What personal information do we process?

We may collect, store and otherwise process the following kinds of personal information:

- a. your name and contact detail, including postal address, telephone number, email address and, where applicable, social media identity;
- b. information about your computer/mobile device and your visits to and use of this website, including, for example, your IP address and geographical location;
- c. information about our services which you use/which we consider may be of interest to you; and/or
- d. any other information shared with us as per clause 1.

3. Do we process special categories of personal information?

The General Data Protection Regulation ('GDPR') recognises certain categories of personal information as sensitive and therefore requiring more protection, for example information about your health, ethnicity and political opinions.

In certain situations, SECURIX LIMITED may collect and/or use these special categories of your personal information. We will only process these special categories of your personal information if there is a valid reason for doing so and where the GDPR allows us to do so.

4. How and why will we use your personal information?

Your personal information, however provided to us, will be used for the purposes specified in this notice. In particular, we may use your personal information.

- a. to provide you with services, products or information you have requested;
- b. to enable you to participate in our projects / campaigns;
- c. to process your membership application / administer your membership;
- d. to provide further information about our work, services, activities or products (where necessary, only where you have provided your consent to receive such information);
- e. to answer your questions/requests and communicate with you in general;
- f. to allow you to make donations / support our projects;
- g. to manage relationships with our supporters;

h. to achieve our aims as an independent company focused on providing IT and cybersecurity consulting services;

i. to analyse and improve our work, services, activities, products or information (including our website);

j. to report on the impact and effectiveness of our work

k. to run/administer our website, keep the website safe and secure and ensure that content is presented in the most effective manner for you and for your device;

l. to register, administer and personalise online accounts;

m. to register and administer your participation in events;

n. to process your application for a job or volunteer role with us;

o. to audit and/or administer our accounts;

p. to satisfy legal obligations which are binding on us, for example in relation to regulatory, government and/or law enforcement bodies with whom we may work (for example requirements relating to the payment of tax or anti-money laundering);

q. for the prevention of fraud or misuse of our services; and/or

r. for the establishment, defence and/or enforcement of legal claims.

5. Supporter research

We may also analyse your personal information to create a record of your interests and preferences. This allows us to ensure communications are relevant and timely, to contact you in the most appropriate and relevant way and in general to provide you with an improved user experience. It also helps us to understand the backgrounds of our supporters.

6. Communications for marketing / project development

We may use your contact details to provide you with information about our work, events, services and/ or products which we consider may be of interest to you (for example, about services you previously used, or updates about the project development).

Where we do this via email or social media, we will not do so without your prior consent.

7. How long do we keep your personal information?

In general, unless still required in connection with the purpose(s) for which it was collected and/or processed, we remove your personal information from our records three years after the date it was collected. However, if before that date (i) your personal information is no longer required in connection with such purpose(s), (ii) we are no longer lawfully entitled to process it or (iii) you validly exercise your right of erasure (please see section 12 below), we will remove it from our records at the relevant time.

If you request to receive no further contact from us, we will keep some basic information about you on our suppression list in order to comply with your request and avoid sending you unwanted materials in the future.

8. Lawful bases

The GDPR requires us to rely on one or more lawful bases to process your personal information. We consider the grounds listed below to be relevant:

a. Where you have provided your consent for us to use your personal information in a certain way (for example, we will ask for your consent to use your personal information to send you promotional or project material by email, and we may ask for your explicit consent to collect special categories of your personal information).

b. Where necessary so that we can comply with a legal obligation to which we are subject (for example, where we are obliged to share your personal information with regulatory bodies which govern our work and services).

c. Where necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or to take steps at your request prior to entering a contract (for example, if you apply to work for/ volunteer with us).

d. Where it is in your/someone else's vital interests (for example, in case of a medical emergency).

e. Where there is a 'legitimate interest' in us doing so.

9. Legitimate interests

The GDPR allows us to collect and process your personal information if it is reasonably necessary to achieve our or others' legitimate interests (as long as that processing is fair, balanced and does not unduly impact your rights).

In broad terms, our 'legitimate interests' means the interests of running SECURIX LIMITED as a company and pursuing our aims and ideals; for example providing information about our projects, involving you in our campaigns, administering events and advertising our services. However, 'legitimate interests' can also include your interests, such as when you have requested information or certain goods/ services from us, and those of third parties (for example, beneficiaries of our work and services).

When we process your personal information to achieve such legitimate interests, we consider and balance any potential impact on you (both positive and negative), and your rights under data protection laws. We will not use your personal information for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you, for example where use would be excessively intrusive (unless, for instance, we are otherwise required or permitted to by law).

10. Will we share your personal information?

Occasionally we share your personal information with third parties in order to deliver services, such as the Solana blockchain. We undertake regular due diligence checks on third party processors to ensure they are acting within the GDPR.

We do not share personal information for any other purpose than to carry out communications about our project development.

We may need to disclose your personal information upon request to regulatory and government bodies as well as law enforcement agencies. We may also merge or partner with other organisations and, in so doing, acquire or transfer personal information but your personal information would continue to be used for the purposes set out above.

11. Security/ storage of and access to your personal information

11.1 SECURIX LIMITED is committed to keeping your personal information safe and secure and we have appropriate and proportionate security policies and organisational and technical measures in place to help protect your information. For example, your personal information is only accessible by appropriately trained staff, volunteers and contractors, and stored on secure servers with features enacted to prevent unauthorised access.

11.2 In general, the personal information that we collect from you will be stored at a destination within the European Economic Area ('EEA'). However, your personal information may sometimes be transferred or stored outside the EEA.

11.3 Please note that some countries outside of the EEA may have a lower standard of protection for personal information, including lower security requirements and fewer rights for individuals. Where your personal information is transferred, stored and/or otherwise processed outside the EEA in a country that does not offer an equivalent standard of protection to the EEA, we will take all reasonable steps necessary to ensure that the recipient implements appropriate safeguards (such as by entering into standard contractual clauses) designed to protect your personal information and to ensure that your personal information is treated securely and in accordance with this Notice.

11.4 Unfortunately, no transmission of your personal information over the internet can be guaranteed to be 100% secure – however, once we have received your personal information, we will use strict procedures and security features to try and prevent unauthorised access.

12. Exercising your Rights

a. Right of access – you can write to us to ask for confirmation of what personal information we hold about you and to request a copy of that information. Provided we are satisfied that you are entitled to see the information requested and we have successfully confirmed your identity, we will provide you with your personal information subject to any exemptions that apply.

b. Right of erasure – at your request and where you are entitled to, we will delete your personal information from our records as far as we are required to do so. In many cases we would propose to suppress further communications with you, rather than delete it.

c. Right of rectification – if you believe our records of your personal information are inaccurate, you have the right to ask for those records to be updated. You can also ask us to check the personal information we hold about you if you are unsure whether it is accurate/ up to date.

d. Right to restrict processing – you have the right to ask for processing of your personal information to be restricted if there is disagreement about its accuracy or legitimate usage.

e. Right to object – you have the right to object to processing where we are (i) processing your personal information on the basis of the legitimate interests ground, (ii) using your personal information for direct marketing or (iii) using your information for research or statistical purposes.

f. Right to data portability – to the extent required by the GDPR, where we are processing your personal information by automated means and either (i) because we have obtained your consent, or (ii) because such processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are party or to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contact, you may ask us to provide your personal information to you – or another service provider – in a machine-readable format.

g. Rights related to automated decision-making – you have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing of your personal information which produces legal or similarly significant effects on you, unless such a decision (i) is necessary to enter into/ perform a contract between you and us/ another data controller; (ii) is authorised by EU or Member State law to which SECURIX LIMITED is subject (as long as that law offers you sufficient protection); or (iii) is based on your explicit consent. We may ask you for additional information to confirm your identity and for security purposes, before disclosing personal information requested to you.

Please note that some of these rights only apply in limited circumstances. For more information, we suggest that you contact us using the details in section 15 below.

You are further entitled to make a complaint about us or the way we have processed your data to the data protection supervisory authority in your home country. For further information on how to exercise this right, please contact us using the details below.

13. Changes to this notice

We may update this Notice from time to time so please check back periodically. We will notify you of significant changes by contacting you directly and by placing a notice on our website. This notice was last updated on 8 October 2021.

Types of cookies

Strictly necessary cookies

These cookies are essential to enable you to move around the website and use its features.

Performance cookies

These cookies collect information about how visitors use a website, for instance which pages visitors go to most often, and if they get error messages from web pages. These cookies don't collect information that identifies a visitor. All information these cookies collect is aggregated and therefore anonymous. It is only used to improve how a website works.

Functional cookies

These cookies allow a website to remember choices you make (such as your user name, language or the region you are in) and provide enhanced, more personal features. These cookies can also be used to remember changes you have made to text size, fonts and other parts of web pages that you can customise. They may also be used to provide services you have asked for such as watching a video or commenting on a blog. The information these cookies collect may be anonymised and they cannot track your browsing activity on other websites.

Targeting cookies

These cookies are used to deliver adverts more relevant to you and your interests. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advertisement as well as help measure the effectiveness of the advertising campaign. They are usually placed by advertising networks with the website operator's permission. They remember that you have visited a website and this information is shared with other organisations such as advertisers. Quite often targeting or advertising cookies will be linked to site functionality provided by the other organisation.

Cookies used on our site:

We do not provide shopping and e-billing services and do not collect personal data. We do not feature personally targeted features, such as customisation and advertising. On our site, only the strictly needed cookies for the security protection of the website, are used.
